

Call for Proposals: PICAIS Research-in-Residence Fellowships for Ukrainian researchers at the University of Passau, Germany Application deadline: 11 July 2022 Published on 2 June 2022

As PICAIS, we stand in solidarity with our fellow researchers in Ukraine. Therefore, we established a fast-track research fellowship for junior and senior researchers in Ukraine threatened by the current war.

The Passau International Centre for Advanced Interdisciplinary Studies is the University's central platform for academic excellence and interdisciplinary research. It promotes research aligned with the University's strategic guiding themes, supporting interdisciplinary project ideas that break new ground in terms of the topics examined and the methods employed. The centre is especially dedicated to the advancement of early career researchers and the creation of opportunities for network-building and interdisciplinary cooperation. PICAIS attracts international visiting scholars to Passau and integrates them into the University's academic community.

PICAIS invites Ukrainian researchers to apply for a visiting position at the University of Passau to support them continuing their research projects at our University. PICAIS will fund full-time fellowships for short-term research stays of at least two months (preferably longer) and up to six months in duration. In cases where there are reasonable grounds for even longer visits, exceptions are possible. The funding period will be arranged individually for each application.

The programme's main objectives are to create a free working space, support joint research projects, enhance early career training and promote interaction between our invited fellows and local researchers. Fellowship applications must, therefore, be endorsed by a member of the University of Passau, who will act as the host.

The fellowship programme caters to both senior academics and junior scientists at the postdoctoral stage who are pursuing academically excellent, innovative research projects and are not currently employees of the University of Passau. It is open to applicants from all disciplines represented at our University, including the humanities, social sciences, business studies, economics, law, computer science and mathematics. The call is open to all research topics and methodologies.

Whilst there is no restriction on research topics, priority is given to topics that are related to one or more of our University's three strategic guiding themes which are:

- 1) Europe and Global Transformation
- 2) Migration, Sustainable Development and Just Order
- 3) Digitalisation, Networked Society and (Internet) Cultures

The application deadline is 11 July 2022.

For the fellows, the programme offers outstanding research conditions in an inspiring environment. Most of the University's buildings are located on an award-winning urban campus, and everything is within walking distance. The city itself, Passau, which has the bynames 'City of Three Rivers' and 'Bavarian Venice' due to its Renaissance Italian flair, is widely considered to be one of the most beautiful in Germany. It is situated in Lower Bavaria, in the southern foothills of the Bavarian Forest, close to Austria and the Czech Republic.

Our fellows are crucial to the centre's intellectual life and enjoy the freedom to focus on their own research projects and push forward their ideas in beautiful surroundings.

Funding

During their time here, PICAIS fellows have:

- affiliate status at the University of Passau
- full access to all University services
- a fully equipped office space
- access to the university computer network
- general access to the communal facilities and common room areas

Fellows receive a full-time fellowship, paid as a lump sum, which covers:

- living expense and cost of accommodation in Passau
- travel costs/mobility allowance
- a contribution towards research costs (as stated in section D in the proposal).

The fellowship stipend depends on the applicant's country of residence (i.e. Ukraine in this case) and the length of stay.

Visiting fellows will conduct research and engage in the centre's programme, e.g. by holding a lecture, talk or workshop at least once during their time in Passau. The fellowship is predominantly designed to be completed in residence. Organisational matters and the work plan for the stay must be outlined in the proposal (sections B and D).

The PICAIS office, the Welcome Centre, the University's administrative services and the host at the University will support our fellows during their research stay at PICAIS.

Please see our funding guidelines online for details on funding.

Selection Criteria

PICAIS is in charge of carrying out the application and selection procedure in a fast and unbureaucratic way to ensure prompt support of the Ukrainian applicants. The proposals are evaluated on a competitive basis by the PICAIS board and, if deemed necessary, by additional external reviewers.

We will seek reasonable social and intellectual diversity in our fellowship cohorts. We especially intend to increase the number of female researchers to promote gender equality.

The following criteria will be considered in the review process:

- 1) Quality and feasibility of the proposed project
- 2) Research profile of the applicant
- 3) Contribution to the University of Passau
